

Fire Keeper—Celia LeBlanc.
Sharp Tooth—Anna Nepodal.
Bodo—Joe McMann.

Bancroft school will give its field day exercises Friday afternoon.

All Nations Here for Three Games With the Storz

The Storz will play their greatest rivals, the All Nations, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, at Rourke park.

John Donaldson, the king of colored slabmen; "Jap" Pacobl, star pitcher of the Tokio university, during their 1913 tour of the United States, and Paul Jones, a southpaw recruit, will probably work against the brewers.

Captain Goding will most likely use Olson, Hayes and Gray, reserving Hayes to battle with Donaldson. The return of Harry Welch to the local's lineup will add materially to their hitting strength.

The addition of Joe Vanous, at first, and Frank Woodruff on short, with Captain Goding behind the bat, working like a well-oiled machine, with Durkes on third and "Grand Island" Graham on second make the Storz infield the greatest combination ever assembled on a local team.

Women Bowlers to possibilities in the east. This was done at a meeting of a number of publishers from all parts of the state at the Commercial club room Wednesday noon, when the Nebraska Publishers' Bureau was organized. To make Nebraska better known to the world and set forth its real interests is the object and purpose of the organization.

The membership consists of daily and weekly newspapers and agricultural newspapers. Eleven publications are represented, the Omaha World-View, Omaha Daily Bee, Omaha Daily News, Norfolk News, Fremont Tribune, Nebraska City News, Nebraska City Express, Nebraska City Twentieth Century Farmer, Nebraska Farmer and Nebraska Farm Journal.

Officers elected were: S. R. Mendenhall, Nebraska Farmer, president; N. H. Huse, Norfolk News, secretary; Rosewater, Omaha Daily Bee and

STONE BR