

STORZ AND ALL NATIONS DOUBLE HEADER SUNDAY

The game booked for Rourke park this afternoon between the All Nations and the Storz team has been declared off on account of unfavorable weather conditions, but tomorrow Manager Bradford will give the fans a double-header, in which the All Nations' two marvels of the mound, Donaldson and Jacobi, will do the hurling. Donaldson will debut in the first session, with young Hayes as his opponent on the Storz firing line. The attraction is a fine one and a large crowd will be on hand to enjoy it. Line-up for game number one:
