

Herman Lose to All Nation Team.

Sunday afternoon the local ball nine took on the All Nation ball tossers and were defeated in a one sided contest by a score of 12 to 6. The All Nations are an aggregation of traveling ball players who seem to have the goods with them and are able to put up a first class article of ball. Considering the practice the local team have had so far this year, the boys made a creditable showing. Sunday's game developed the fact that most of the local team do not watch the ball as much as they should when on bases as too often runs are lost through carelessness in keeping track of the ball. Our boys are all good conscientious ball players and by being a little more careful of their base running will turn many a defeat into victory. At the bat every member is well able to look out for himself and is generally there with the goods when called upon to deliver. A large crowd were present to witness the contest and seemed satisfied with the showing made by the home team. In the seventh inning the old reliable Jim at first base pulled off a neat double play that was a clever piece of headwork. You may always depend upon Jim doing the right thing when needed.
