

PEACE AGAIN REIGNS IN THE CITY WARSAW

Polish Revolt Leader and Forces in Supreme Control.

(By the Associated Press.)
Warsaw, May 16.—Warsaw has settled down to its accustomed calm under the control of Marshal Pilsudski, with M. Radaj as acting president and a ministry functioning under Prof. Charles Bartel, until the national assembly meets some time during the present week to elect a president.

The former president, M. Wojtowicz, has been given a passport and permitted to retire to the presidential summer residence at Spala. Some of the ministers of his former cabinet are still under guard at Wilnow, but the minister of railways has been allowed his liberty.

Among the members of the ousted government who are in the custody of Pilsudski are M. Zdzislawski, Senator Smulski, Gen. Malczewski and Gen. Rowandow, Anders, Sogorski and Zuzanski.

Reparating to Damage.

The victorious troops of the invading army have been busy today repairing the damage and restoring a semblance of order, but in other ways Warsaw appears to be conducting its activities in a normal way. The damage from the street fighting was not so heavy as at first supposed. The most dilapidated building is the war office, there having been fierce exchanges between the opposing forces, both within this building and around it. The public offices are open as usual, and street cars have begun operating.

The railways are reported to be working regularly. The Paris-Warsaw express arrived today only an hour later. There has been no change in the management of the Polish bank. A public funeral of many of the victims of the warfare, which was to have been held today, was postponed until tomorrow, for what are described as "technical" reasons.

List Cabinet Members.

The temporary cabinet, which will hold office until the national assembly meets to elect a president, is constituted as follows:

Premier and minister of railways—Charles Bartel.
Minister of interior—Prof. Lodzianowski.
Foreign affairs—August Zaleski, former ambassador to Rome.

War—Marshal Joseph Pilsudski.
Finance—M. Czechowski.
Public works—Prof. Broniewski.
Labor—Dr. Jurkowski.
Agriculture and agriculture reforms—Dr. Raczynski.
Industry and commerce—Hypolite Gwizdzki.
Education—Prof. Mikoyanski-Pomorski.
Justice—Prof. Wencelasmakowski.
Citizens Urged to Be Calm.

The cabinet is made up largely of experts from the different government departments.

In a statement issued today, Premier Bartel says: "My government has been formed to clear up the situation. It guarantees security and bids the citizens be calm and continue to work. This government will continue only until the election of a president by the national assembly, which will occur with the least possible delay. The government will firmly adhere to the constitution."

M. Radaj, who has assumed the provisional presidency, also issued a statement laying stress on the urgency of reverting to a strictly constitutional order of things as soon as possible.

"I am absolutely convinced," he added, "that the situation will have a peaceful outcome."

It is learned that Gen. Sikorski, commanding the army corps at Lemberg, has informed Marshal Pilsudski that the corps is at his command.

The railroad strike, which was declared Wednesday as a protest against the Witos government, ended last night in response to an appeal telegraphed to the leaders by the premier.

M. Bartel has ordered the immediate release of M. Chondanski, former minister.

MOHAMMED VI, FORMER TURKISH SULTAN, DIES

San Remo, Italy, May 16.—(AP)—Mohammed VI, former sultan of Turkey, died here last night of cardiac paralysis. He had lived on the Riviera for the past three or four years.

Sultan Mohammed VI, as Prince Valid-Eddine, brother of Sultan Mohammed V, became heir apparent to the Turkish throne in 1918. He was proclaimed sultan on the death of Mohammed V on July 3, 1918, in the midst of the troubles of war, famine, brigandage and political discontent. Soon after this the Turkish government sought, through President Wilson, an end of the hostilities between the allies and Turkey. Turkey's surrender came on October 30 of the same year.

Mohammed's abdication was called for in 1920 and by the Kemalists, but he refused to abdicate. The following year, however, Kemal Pasha having taken control, Mohammed was forced to flee to Constantinople. He took refuge aboard a British warship bound for Malta.

He abdicated after receiving information that the Ankara government intended to try him and his ministers for treason. Later he proceeded to Egypt and then to San Remo, where he still cherished hopes of returning to Turkey as head of the Moslem world.

FURS WORN ON SUMMER OUTFITS BY PARISIENNES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Paris, May 16.—The intrusion of old man winter in the budding Paris season wrought an interesting change in the spring and summer styles, and was evidenced today at the Long-champs racetrack, when it rained, hailed and blew a gale. Smart Paris turned, nevertheless, garbed in compromise suits, coats of light summer fabrics worn with heavy fur collars being the most remarkable sight.

Not only was the customary fox worn, but heavier furs, even otter, were everywhere on otherwise unmistakably summer outfits. This seems to be the chief contribution to a perverse spring which brought everything short of a blizzard.

The center of France was treated to snow, 15 feet deep in the mountains, and a revival of winter sports commenced in the Puy-de-Dome region.

BEAUTY SHOWS AND BATHING REVIEWS HIT BY BAPTISTS

Houston, Tex., May 16.—(AP)—Beauty contests and bathing reviews are opposed by the Southern Baptist convention.

They were classified as "evil and evil only" in resolutions passed at the closing session of the convention last night. The resolutions added that beauty contests and bathing reviews "tend to lower true and genuine respect for womanhood."

Card playing, dancing, "late joy riding and general mixed bothing" also were condemned as "harmful and blighting to our spiritual life and directly opposed to our highest and holiest happiness and well being."

LAST EMBERS OF BRITISH STRIKE ARE DYING OUT

London, May 16.—(AP)—The last embers of the general strike are dying down, and with the exception of the miners, who are likely to remain out until a satisfactory agreement is reached, the industry is rapidly returning normal conditions, and the people and the government are beginning to count the cost.

No final estimate is yet possible, but the general impression in government circles is that the loss will be less than the cost of the coal strike in 1925, which is generally thought to have been in the neighborhood of £200,000,000.

Identify Body as That of Minneapolis Man

Chicago, May 16.—(AP)—A body with two bullet wounds in the head, found near Chicago several days ago, was identified today as that of Henry Dress, 71, retired brewmaster, of Minneapolis. Identification was by his sister, William Dress, who told the police that his father had left Minneapolis several weeks ago with $1,000 to visit friends at Madison, Wis. Police believe he was murdered.

PAIN WRACKED PATIENT HAS NOT SLEPT FOR 42 DAYS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
New York, May 16.—A row of white sheeted beds—10 of them—and 10 somber faced men. It is a ward in the hospital for joint diseases.

The 10th lies David Katz, a native of Russia, whose queer case has baffled many of New York's eminent specialists.

For 42 days, attending nurses and surgeons say, Katz has not once closed his eyes in sleep. The gnawing torture of a foot decaying under the ravages of an indolent stage of gangrene has kept him fully awake.

Surgeons marvel and fellow patients in the gangrene ward stare in wonderment at the haggard face of the man who has silently suffered for so long.

It is not his malady that so perplexes the experts. The disease is not uncommon, but that a man has come so long without sleep is declared an unprecedented phenomenon in medical annals.

Katz's face, hollow checked and his eyes glassy and unresponsive, are living records of weeks of torment. Yet he bears it in Spartan fortitude, waiting the edict of Dr. Henry W. Frauenthal, surgeon in chief, who will some day tell him he is soon to be a well man—or that his right leg must be amputated.

Two years ago the first symptoms of the dread malady appeared and since then he has been under treatment. His affliction shattered his plans to bring his wife and four children from their Russian hamlet that was his home in New York, where he had prospered as a junk dealer.

Another Hat Cast Into Texas Political Ring

Naples, Tex., May 16.—(AP)—Another hat has been thrown into the Texas political ring to compete with the bonnet of Gov. Miriam Ferguson.

The Tex. C. P. Zimmerman, self styled as "Zim," the thriving evangelist, announces that the time has come when "some man has got to offer himself as a martyr for the salvation of Texas."

Three men and three women are now contending for the governorship.

DOOMED MAN WROTE JAILER

Remarkable Letter of Irish Traitor Published for First Time.

New York, May 16.—A hitherto unpublished letter, which was kept secret by the British war office because it was feared that its magnanimous spirit might arouse feeling during the critical wartime period in favor of a man who—under the law—had to be executed, is made public in this week's Liberty and is destined, perhaps, to take its place among the world's immortal documents. Few knew of the existence of this letter, which was written by Sir Roger Casement to his jailer before he was hanged for treason in Pentonville prison, London, on August 2, 1918.

The letter was dated "May 17, 1918," and read as follows:

Dear Supt. Sandcock: "Before I have the misfortune (as I will term it in truth) to be taken out of your custody on my journey to and from this prison to Bow street, I want to thank you very warmly and most sincerely for your unfailing courtesy, kindness and kindness to me. From the time you took me in custody at Euston on Easter Sunday, and again took me to the Tower on Easter Tuesday, you showed me the best side of an Englishman's character—his native good nature. Whatever you may think of my attitude toward your government and the realm, I will only ask you to keep one thing in the heart of yours—that is, that the man can fight a country and its policy and yet not hate any individual of that country."

Robert Louis Stevenson once said: "An Englishman's hatred of England is natural, right and sincere—it is against a rule and a government—and is not based on any personal out. It is impersonal, and may be most unselfish. I hope my feeling is something of that kind—at any rate, I feel for you (and for so many others who have had charge of me since my arrest) that I should treat me in a wholly chivalrous and high minded way; and I can only tell you that I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

"Yours faithfully,
"Roger Casement."

"I hope your life may be happy and prosperous, and that you will gain speedy promotion and so be able, often again, to help some man in great trouble."

In commenting on the letter, the article in Liberty points out that Casement was clearly guilty of treason. "He had tried," it reads, "to land arms in Ireland and to start a revolution while Britain was in a war to the death with stronger foes. He was captured with the proof of his conspiracy upon him."

"But the man who wrote this letter was no traitor of the type that this letter and its contents are the back of. We believe that, long after the bitterness of these quarrels has passed away, men will read this letter and say, 'That was written by a very great and generous gentleman.'"

280 PERSONS TAKEN OFF A LEAKY SHIP

Passengers from Clyde Liner Seneca Brought to Miami, Fla.

(By the Associated Press.)
Miami, Fla., May 16.—Two hundred and eighty passengers from the Clyde line steamship Seneca were brought here today after the vessel grounded a mile off Miami harbor last night as a result of a leak, which partially filled her hold with water.

The leak was discovered when the steamship was off Hollywood, miles north of here, en route to New York. The vessel was turned back as it was unable to clear the channel to Miami harbor.

Anchor was weighed and tugs summoned. The passengers were transferred to small relief boats today, and continued the journey northward by train.

The Seneca tonight rested easily at her anchorage, listing slightly to the starboard side. Throughout the day water was pumped from her hold, allowing her to float clear from the small reef near the channel entrance. She will be towed within the harbor tomorrow.

Capt. B. W. Leek said engine room men informed him that a slight tremor was felt last night as the vessel passed through the Miami outer channel into the sea, but that a shock was not experienced. It was the belief of the crew that the Seneca struck the blade of a tug propeller on the bottom of the bay.

Proceeding slowly and with all available manning pumps, the ship approached a point one mile out of Miami harbor where passengers were aware that anything untoward had occurred.

With lights of Miami beach visible, passengers were requested to obtain life preservers and turn out for lifeboat drill. They were informed by Capt. Leek that there was no danger and that until today they were removed from the vessel.

The liner F. Alexander, out of New York for San Francisco, stood by ready to give assistance until released by Capt. Leek's assurance that cause for apprehension had been removed.

Capt. Christensen was in command. The same vessel was badly burned at her winter quarters here two years ago. She was a wooden vessel of 847 tons.

The steamer was en route to Ogdensburg from Buffalo.

LABOR LEADER ADDRESSES ST. PAUL MEETING

St. Paul, Minn., May 16.—(AP)—In their economic organization (the) the 35th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, declared in an address today at a mass meeting called by the Minnesota Federation of Labor.

Representatives of organized labor and the Catholic church attended the meeting, which was held to celebrate the 35th anniversary of the issuance by Pope Leo XIII of his encyclical letter, "Labor and Capital," and to assist the trade unions in furthering their educational work.

At present, Mr. Green said, apparently referring to the British situation, "the thoughts and attentions of the people throughout the world are centered upon the problems of labor and the relationship between labor and capital."

"Recent events," he added, "have stimulated and intensified this interest in industrial questions and industrial relationship."

The federation head asserted that industrial development and some large found some employers and some large corporations who deny their workers the right to enjoy collective bargaining or to organize for mutual helplessness, and that it was this sort of policy that creates "class warfare, class antagonism and social unrest."

WOODMAN WINS BATTLE WITH A GRIZZLY BEAR

Bolton, Idaho, May 16.—(AP)—His body torn and bruised, Jim McCann, woodman, was slowly recovering today from the effects of a battle with a large grizzly bear, in which he emerged the victor.

McCann met his bear in his own haunts, the desolate mountain wilderness near the Salmon river, and stayed off possible death with a hunting knife that he attacked him. The fight that ensued McCann's right arm was almost torn from his socket and his scalp severely bruised.

After the battle, fearing he would die, he scribbled a note to his brother, William, saying: "Bill, the bear killed me, but I killed him. The woodsman's rifle had been knocked from his grip when the grizzly came up from the rear and fell on him. A trail of blood separated the victor and the vanquished when friends came upon them several hours later."

FIERY WARNING GIVEN BROWNING AND HIS BRIDE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Bellmore, L. I., May 16.—Residents of this fashionable section, many of whom belong to the kuklux klan, early today gave a flaming warning to Edward W. Browning that the millionnaire real estate man and his girl bride, the former Estelle Heenan, would not be welcomed to the countryside as summer residents.

The warning came in the form of the burning of a keeper's lodge or bungalow in Jericho road, near Oakfield place. The bungalow was not occupied, but the neighborhood had heard that Browning intended to build a summer home on the property and to pass the heated season there with his bride.

It was the intention of the owner to utilize the house for a ground-keeper after he had erected his man-homestead. Flaming from the burning building was completely destroyed, with a monetary loss of $3,500.

The police were unable to trace any of the persons who are believed to have fired the house.

The kuklux klan is very strong in the vicinity of Bellmore and members of that order have been heard to express their disapproval of the idea of acquiring Mr. and Mrs. Browning as neighbors.

BUILDING JOBS IN K. C. CLOSED DOWN BY STRIKE

Kansas City, Mo., May 16.—(AP)—The strike of carpenters, hoisting engineers and the setters' helpers has closed down all union construction jobs in Kansas City, builders' associations officials said tonight.

No members of the association were employing non-union labor to replace the strikers, they said, and as soon as jobs progressed to the point where they could not be carried on longer without union carpenters, hoisting engineers, or the setters' helpers, the jobs were closed down, throwing other crafts out of work.

No agreement was in prospect, officials said.

The three crafts struck when wage increase demands were refused by the contractors.

DR. MARX NOW THE NEW RULER OF GERMANY

(By Sigrid Schultz.)
Berlin, May 16.—Former Chancellor Dr. Wilhelm Marx, leader of the center party, was today named minister of justice and the new ruler of Germany. He has succeeded where Goebbels and Adenauer failed.

After prolonged negotiations today with the German people's party, Dr. Marx informed President von Hindenburg that he had come to an agreement with the people's party. This put him in a position to accept the chancellorship offered by the president. He will form a cabinet mostly the same as the Luther cabinet.

The people's party has agreed not to make any trouble for the Marx government, while the center party has expressed readiness to accept co-operation of German nationalists in the government on certain conditions, particularly on acknowledgment by the latter of the government's foreign policy.

The government would be the aim of the government would be to carry on affairs with the support of the nationalists, rather than with the nationalists, in view of the fact that there was thus a stronger guarantee that the present foreign policy would be continued.

WILL RESCUE S. C. GIRL FROM LOCKED SAFE

Raffles to Perform This Noon Before Thousands of Persons.

Can Raffles, the master crackman, release the girl before she suffocates? That will be the question on the lips of the thousands of persons who are expected to attend The Journal's party this noon. On the platform of a truck drawn up before The Journal building, Raffles will lock some pretty Sioux City girl who is not afraid in a modern, burglar proof and airtight safe and then proceed to rescue her before she suffocates.

The girl will be a Sioux City girl. The selection has not been made by Raffles and any young woman wishing to take part in the stunt should call The Journal office and leave her name with the operator. Raffles will make the selection, and his choice will be made known just before she is locked in the safe.

The crowd that will witness the exhibition is expected to rival in size that which gathered about The Journal building two years ago to witness the world famous magician, Harry Houdini, when he was suspended, head downward, from the building. In anticipation of Raffles' skill in a manner that his every move will be visible to the entire gathering of spectators.

To Care for Crowd.
Arrangements have been made with the police department to have special traffic officers assigned to Fifth and Douglas streets Monday noon in order that there may be no unnecessary traffic congestion.

Promptly at 12:15 o'clock the young woman will be locked in her airtight prison. The safe, incidentally, is not an antiquated piece of equipment. It will be of modern design, and will be donated by a Sioux City merchant.

Raffles, with eyes blindfolded, and his back to the safe, will approach the dial.

If he claims he can open it in three minutes, the safe will be sufficiently large to contain the air necessary to keep a human alive for that period. Of course, there is always the possibility of the crackman being unable to open it in that amount of time, but Raffles has no doubts as to his ability.

"However," he will have no opportunity to practice on the safe before the hour of the exhibition, and no one will know until the performance is over whether or not he will be successful in his task. It will be three minutes of tense excitement anyway, and all of the excitement probably will not be on the outside of the safe.

LOST BAKER'S SON MAY BE HIDING FROM GANGSTERS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
New York, May 16.—After 10 days of search for Walter S. Ward, the police of New York, Trenton, Philadelphia and points south have failed to establish whether the renowned slayer of Clarence Peters is dead, kidnaped or merely playing hidey from home, as he has so often done before.

The police, somewhat wearily, admit the case is no longer of great interest to them. They are all agreed in their opinion that Ward, who has millions in bakery business, is hiding for some reason of his own.

It is perfectly possible, they concede, that Ward's loyal wife and his brother, Ralph D. Ward, are correct in their announced belief that the missing man has been abducted or murdered by members of a blackmail gang. But it is not regarded likely in official quarters. He may be hiding because of trouble he had with bookmakers, to whom he owed many thousands of dollars, the police hint.

Those who know him best do not think Ward would run away from the Peters lawsuit. Mr. and Mrs. Elberfeld Peters, of Haverhill, Mass., parents of the murdered sailor, Clarence Peters, sued Ward for $50,000 damages after Ward was acquitted of murder. The suit is on the calendar of the United States district court, which sits in New York. It was transferred here from Massachusetts. The case is due to be reached by June 1.

If Walter Ward is not reached to accept notice from a subpoena served before June 1, the case must be postponed. J. Lynch, of White Plains, attorney for the Peters family, said today.

Can He Do It?

Raffles, "Master Crackman," will provide a thrill for thousands of persons who come to The Journal's party at 12:15 p. m. today by rescuing a Sioux City girl from an airtight safe.

Do you believe that there is any fraud connected with his unlocking of the door? If you do, then Raffles has challenged you to furnish the safe, and the girl. In order to prove that he is not a fraud, a committee of business men will inspect the safe and lock the woman in it.

All Raffles has to do is to release her before she suffocates. Will Raffles rescue her, or will the girl be suffocated? Come to The Journal this noon and see for yourself.

SCOTT'S COUNSEL FLAYS MOVE BY STATE ALIENISTS

Chicago, May 16.—(AP)—Belief that Russell Scott is insane, expressed tonight by William Scott Stewart, attorney, who represented him during his trial and when a jury found him insane a few hours before he was to be hanged for the murder of a drug clerk. Commenting upon the action of Dr. Clarence Jenkins, state director of public welfare, summoning three alienists to test Scott's sanity on Tuesday at the Chester asylum where he is confined, Attorney Stewart said:

"This is just another smoke screen thrown up by the state authorities to head off another situation. But even if the state alienists find him sane, they will face quite an involved legal situation when they go about hanging him
