

One of the largest crowds in the history of Association Park witnessed the defeat of the Eureka Red Sox yesterday afternoon at the hands of the All Nations aggregation. At the close of the conflict the game bag of the visiting team contained eight birds, the Red Sox, nothing. Notwithstanding the fact that Eureka was shut out, the home boys played a strong game. The visitors were professionals and old heads at the game, and it is not expected that the average amateur team would be in their class. Kite and Bales composed the battery for the Red Sox, and worked well against the hard hitting visitors. Donaldson, the big smoke in the box for the All Nations, was probably the fastest twirler that ever worked in Association Park. However, he was taken out after two innings and his place taken by another pitcher. After the big black was relieved the home boys fared better, several times getting a man to third. The game was absolutely free from quarreling and rag-chewing, and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

All Nations	.....	1	2	0	0	3	0	0	0	2	—3
Red Sox	.....	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

The Red Sox secured 4 hits during the game, and the All Nations 8.

Game played May 12, 1915 at Eureka, KS