

CARRINGTON DEFEATS
ALL NATIONS

In a loosely played contest the Carrington baseball team defeated the All Nations at the fair grounds on Monday evening by a score of 9 to 2. Carrington took the lead in the initial inning, a home run with two men on bases scoring three tallies, enough to win the game. However, the Carrington sluggers pounded out six more tallies, hitting Chief Smith freely. The game was relieved by sparks of fast baseball.

In the box for Carrington was Dewey Lyle, star twirler at Jamestown last season, and he showed the same form as when wearing the Jamestown uniform. It was his second victory for the season over the All Nations. In the center field for the All Nations was John Donaldson, who attracted the usual amount of attention. The All Nations' regular catcher was injured and his place was taken by Howard Rolfe of the Jamestown headquarters team. He played an excellent game and was responsible for the All Nations' two tallies.

The crowd was large, with many in the grandstand, the bleachers filled and the usual line of fans along the first-base line. Nearly 100 autos encircled the field.

Game played July 12, 1915 at Jamestown, ND
