

The second game played on Monday afternoon, starting at 3 P. M. resulted in a score of 17-2. Carrington's pitcher heaved a good game and the report given him by the rest of the team was of the best, there being only three errors made by the locals and the visitors only making four. They allowed six hits, but keeping them scattered prevented the opposing team from scoring. Nine hits were secured off of Jacob, the All Nations pitcher.

Jacob struck out eleven men and Leahy struck out six.

The batteries were Leahy and Twissner for Carrington and Jacob and Rolfe for the All Nations.

The score by innings follows:

Carrington	0	3	0	0	0	0	4	0	1	—8
All Nations	0	0	0	0	1	0	2	0	0	—3

The third game played on Tuesday evening at 6.30 resulted in the lopsided score of 17-2. While Carrington was expected to get beat they had no intention of letting the visitors run away with the game and would have succeeded in keeping the score down had we had a pitcher who was in shape. Schmirler, the home pitcher played good ball up to the sixth inning when his arm gave out and a substitute pitcher was put in his place—and then fun for the All Nations began. Donaldson pitched the game for the All Nations and allowed eight hits and struck out twelve men. Schmirler got five strike outs and Koenig, the substitute pitcher got three. A total of fourteen hits was secured by the All Nations in this game. The score by innings follows:

Carrington—1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—2

All Nations—1 0 2 0 1 2 6 0 5—17

Batteries for Carrington were Schmirler, Koenig and Twissner. All Nations, Donaldson and Rolfe.

Games played July 13, 1915 at Jamestown, ND