

Beat Donaldson

Sunday was the big day. John Donaldson went on the mound, and the Kansas City fans backed him for all they were worth, owing to his victory over the Giants in Chicago. They thought they had a walkaway. The game was played on a muddy field, and, although the Giants were again held to four hits they won, 5 to 2. Whithworth started the game for the Giants, but was taken out in the ninth and Wickware sent to the mound.

The third game went to the home team in a ten-inning fray, the Giants losing, 8 to 7. Donaldson, playing in the left field, stole home in the sixth, which added to the excitement.

Games played October 15, 1916 at Kansas City, MO
