

WILBUR ROGAN, the pitcher from Honolulu who made his first local appearance here yesterday at Vernon, is some pumpkins. He is touted as the best pitcher of the Hawaiian Islands, and he seems to be all of that. He held the Western to one hit and two runs yesterday. Also Rogan made three triples and a single in four times at bat, helping the L. A. White Sox to beat the Westerns, 10 to 2. Rogan fanned fourteen men. He was a little wild, as he has not pitched for several weeks. His wildness and errors gave the Westerns their two runs in the first round and thereafter they were helpless.

Westerns	2	1	1
White Sox	10	11	2

Perrone and Orendorf; Rogan and Baker.

Game played March 25, 1917 at Los Angeles, CA
