

in the the	EMER: Waxed pitching by the Lincoln Cleaner slobsters enabled the All-Nations to romp off with the long end of a 12 to 7 score in the Fourth of July encounter, staged at the Capital Beach ball park. Donald- son, the famous colored hurler, fanned ten of the Cleaners, but was pounded for nine hits. The Cleaners used three pitch- ers, Stagnal, Lusa and Holmberg, and their inability to locate the plate made the going easy for the All-Nations.	M C: S: B: C: S: C: L: C: B
------------------	---	--

Game played July 4, 1917 at Lincoln, NE