

C. I. TAYLOR, KING OF BASEBALL MANAGERS WILL BRING HIS TEAM OF STARS TO K. C. FOR SERIES OF GAMES, MAY 29.

All real "dyed in the wool" baseball fans, lovers of the grand old National game will have an opportunity of viewing the famous A. B. C. Club of Indianapolis, Indiana, who will play in Kansas City, Mo., on May 29th. C. I. Taylor, the peerless leader of this Hoosier tribe will also be on hand and there is sure to be one of the greatest exhibitions of ball playing seen in this section for many moons. The Kansas City Club has the honor of dishing out the only defeat suffered by the Hoosier Alphabetus aggregation this season, and we have it from C. I. himself that the Kansas City tribe deserved to win

There are quite a few Topekans who will be on hand next Sunday to witness the double bill scheduled at Association Park for 3:30 P. M.

You fans who have longed to see the justly famous Donaldson, whom McGraw of the New York Giants so fittingly said of him: "Worth $100,000 to any man's club." And too, there is the "King of Swat," Oscar Charleston, of Indianapolis, who hit one over the fence at the League park in Montgomery, Alabama in a game with the Southern League club that is said to be still going, so far as anyone is able to determine. But if you like pitching, good old fashioned pitching, the kind we often read of in the best sellers but never see well, that youngster Rile, of the A. B. C. Club, he's your bird—what? Facing a Southern league team in the 5th inning recently at Mobile, Alabama, 17 men came to the plate, the first fourteen men were sent to the dugout with three strikes each, and the remaining three were out on infield pops to the pitcher. Just to be sure to earn his daily bread, this youngster, frequently poles out a homer, to see the fielders rave, as he explains. To cap the climax we mention the world's premier first-sacker, Ben Taylor, the graceful kid; "Dizzy" Dismukes, who is often called by white papers, "the black Carl Mays of baseball" who has an underhand swing that has caused more real worry to batters of the opposition than perhaps any other pitcher; then right in K. C. we have with us, Mendez, the Cuban, that wily boy of a thousand hard fought battles, from the Isle of Sunshine and ball players. He's worth the price of admission alone. You can't resist that Cuban, for he is the "Germany Shaffer" of Colored baseball

Run down S. Jay May 29th and see what progress the National Negro Baseball League is making along the lines of bigger, better baseball! You'll not regret the trip. Not in a million years. All Aboard!
