

The Monarchs, with new faces in the lineup, went out to the Tramway's ball lot last Sunday and administered a 11 to 7 trouncing to the city champions. Absence of the regulars gave some of the new men a chance to strut their stuff and they sure didn't miss it. Newt Josephs, at Portuando's regular station, third base, showed up well, and Swett played first like a veteran.

Game played March 26, 1922 at Kansas City, MO