

Sunday, April 23rd, the Monarchs stacked up against an All-star team with Roy Sanders, late of the Pittsburg Pirates on the mound. Sanders is rated as one of the greatest spit ball artists in the business and is now a hold out of the Pittsburg team. For the first two innings Sanders had the Monarchs eating out of his hands, but with the beginning of the third inning the Monarchs began to lift the ball to all corners of the lot. The game ended by the score of 1 to 4 in favor of the Monarchs. The Mon-

Game played April 23, 1922 at Kansas City, MO.