

One of the most hotly contested as well as scrappiest games of the series was the game Tuesday. Moss of Chicago and Duncan the scrappy little catcher of the Monarchs had a run in at the plate after Moss had spiked Duncan in which Duncan threw the ball at him at close range. Moss ducked and the ball gave Umpire Boyle a smash under the jaw that made him take the count. The players of both teams interfered and Police came scurrying from every direction; the trouble blew over in a few moments. The Giants scored six runs in the sixth inning, clinching the game which up until that time had been virtually a pitchers battle. McNair the brilliant little outfielder replaced Curry on the mound and pitched a wonderful game. It was Ladies Day and an attendance of over 5,000 was present.

The score by innings:

Chicago. . . . .	0 2 0 0 1 6 0 0 1	— 10
Monarchs. . . . .	2 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 1	— 5
