

The baseball game between the All Nations and the locals last Tuesday afternoon was a farce from beginning to end. However, the comedy of the visitors seemed to amuse the crowd and the game was interesting from that standpoint. The locals proved absolutely no opposition and the All Nations scored almost at will and as often as they desired. Several scores were donated to the home team to keep the game on a more even basis and seemingly more interesting. "Ike" Brown did the pitching for the locals and hurled a strong game but as usual had absolutely no support. Had he received better support, the game would have been much closer and the visitors might have been compelled to work to win. The All Nations are a great club and it is seldom that they are defeated. A beautiful and extraordinary fancy running catch by Donaldson centerfielder of the visitors was a feature of the game. The final score was 12 to 8 in favor of the visitors. It is regretted that the locals could not give their opponents better opposition and thus give the spectators a chance to see the All Nations in real action.

Game played August 8, 1922 at Woonsocket, SD