

FAIRMONT LOSES SECOND GAME TO ALL NATION TEAM

Five to Two Score Means Thrills in Spite of Loss Suffered by Wattamen.

Do you like the thrills of baseball? Well the Fairmont-All Nations clash yesterday was a "humdinger." With Jones our nifty first sacker and Harry Lane, the dizzy corner guard-ian both on the ailing list, the Watts men offered a stubborn opposition for John Donaldson and his many nations.

The crowd was about the same as Tuesday and the sun beamed down in the same old way, but the wind that raised a havoc the day before was not so prominent.

The pastime was more close than the 5 to 2 score will indicate for the Wattamen had men waiting on the paths. Once the umpire got dizzy and brilliant plays checked at other times. Two runs were presented to the visitors Watts and Swauman's errors being the cause.

Pitchers Go Strong

Heskett was on the mound for Fairmont and Gwynn for the visitors was in fine form and the breaks came in his favor. Red Heskett was touched more freely than usual, but scattered the hits so far apart that five was an enormous amount. The Wattamen secured eleven hits at Gwynn's expense while the visitors were credited with the same amount. Gwynn whiffed ten Wattamen, while Heskett fanused seven.

Ross Hits One

Moore tripled in the second round and scored, when Ross banged the first ball Gwynn pitched to him for a three ply wallop scoring Moore. The All Nations came back in their half of the third strong. Gwynn singled and Allen scored him with a triple to right. But Donaldson lined to Boulet and Allen was doubled. The clubs were battling on even terms until the sixth when the visitors grabbed two markers. Donaldson singled. Davis was safe on fielders choice. White sacrificed them ahead and they romped home on Davis' rap thru the box.

They counted one more in the 7th on Allen's single—a steal, a passed ball and a perfect squeeze play with Anderson at the bat.

The fifth count came in the eighth when Chief White tripled and was held on third until two were down and scored on Watts error of Vaughn's grounder.

Moore Singles "Swan" In

The Wattamen started something in the eighth after Radtka and Brown had skied out. Swan hit one through short, swiped second and breezed home on Moore's hot single. Fredette then pelted a scorcher for one base and when Ross came up the stands went in an uproar. Ross worked Gwynn to the 3 to 2 count and should have walked, but Montie the umpire sneezed or lost track of the apple. Ross jumped from a close ball and Montie waved him out. He sure missed a nice one in the jam.

Anderson's Stop Quells Rally

Three runs behind in the ninth, and battling like real warriors of the "never say die" spirit. Heskett skied to Donaldson, Watts struck out for the "steenth" time. Boulet singled thru the box, Radtke singled and Joe went to third, Radtke going to second on the throw. Steve Brown always dangerous in a pinch, took a look, between first and second was good enough for two scores and Steve shot what should have been a single in that identical spot. "Bob" Anderson the ebony hued second sacker took a run, did an "Eddie Collins" and came up with the ball nailing Steve at first. This play stopped two runs as Radtke could have scored easily on the hit.

The game was a beaut to watch and altho the fans declared the Watts men wouldn't have a chance they more than held their own.
