
Monarchs Play A. B. C.s Today in Final Contest

The A. B. Cs. were cheated out of a chance to even the count with the Kansas City Monarchs yesterday, due to wet grounds, but will get another opportunity to beat the speedy colored aggregation this afternoon at Washington park, the game starting at 3:15 o'clock. Dismukes or Jefferies will do the hurling for the local colored team.

A good week-day crowd is expected to see these two clubs in action this afternoon. The K. C. outfit is the only one that has beaten C. I. Taylor's team here this season and then the Monarchs were forced to go ten innings in order to slip over a win.

Tomorrow and Friday these same clubs will play exhibition games at Marion, Ind., and then meet in a single contest Saturday at Muncie. Following these games, the A.s will jump back here to meet the speedy Dayton Marcos, who have been setting a dizzy pace in the colored baseball circles. The Marcos are managed by Jim Taylor, brother of Manager Taylor.

A doubleheader will be played Sunday, with a single contest on Monday, after which the A. B. C.s will take to the road returning June 27 for a series with the American Giants.
