
OKLAHOMA CITY — Dizzy Dean and his brother, Paul, were the center of attraction here Wednesday night, October 10, in a game against the Kansas City Monarchs. The Dean brothers flew here from St. Louis Wednesday. With the score 4 to 0 in favor of the big leaguers, the game was called at the end of the fifth because the greater portion of the 14,000 who crowded into the ball park was more content to see the Dean brothers and didn't give a rap about the game.

Game played October 10, 1934 at Oklahoma City, OK
