

NEGRO TEAM MEETS ALLIANCE SUNSETS

Kansas City Monarchs Are Classed As Strongest
Of Their Race.

From The Repository Bureau.
ALLIANCE, O., Aug. 26.—The Kansas City Monarchs, who in their last series with the Kansas City Blues, of the American association, won five out of six games, will play the Sunset Parks a twilight game at the local park today, starting at 5:15.

The Monarchs claim to be the strongest Negro team in the United States and have been twice declared Negro world champions in the four times they have won the pennant in the National Colored league. The Negro world series is played between that league and the winner of the Eastern Colored league.

The team is managed by "Bullet" Joe Rogan, classed by some critics with Mathewson and Walter Johnson who pitches and plays in the outer gardens. In addition to his ability on the field he is considered one of the best hitters in baseball. Ted Young, who led the Negro National league in home runs for the last two years, will catch with Mot-hell playing first, Allen second, Orange at short and Joseph at third. The infield is claimed to compare favorably with many of the infields of major league teams. Chick Harris, Roy Shepard and John Donaldson form the fly chasing corps.

Either of the Sunsets' new pitchers, Buster Schamp or Marty Pauline, will be available for mound duty

Monarchs Of Kansas City, Here Tuesday, Very Colorful Combine

The Kansas City Monarchs, recognized Negro champions who play the Homestead Grays at Lakeside in a twilight game next Tuesday, carry just about the most colorful ball clubs in the sport. Their outfit is packed with players of both ability and personality.

The Monarch infield has been playing together for five years or more and the infield work is unusual. The Monarchs put lots of comedy into their playing but like to win all their ball games. Despite all of their funny antics and their clowning on the diamond, they lose only to better clubs.

This club has won many games in exhibition ball against some of the best white league clubs in the country. In the last series against the Kansas City Blues of the American Association, the Monarchs won five out of six games played.

The Monarchs mean to the National Colored League what the Athletics do to the American. Since the league was formed 11 years ago, the Monarchs have won four pennants and have played in three Negro world series against the winners of the Eastern Colored League and the Monarchs have twice been declared world's colored champions. Baseball and showmanship have made the Monarchs the popular club they are.

The Monarchs were to have played the Sunset Parks of Alliance yesterday at the park but were rained out.
