

DAYTON CLUB HERE TODAY.

The Monarchs Will Meet Marcos In
First of 5 Game Series

With only one game between them and the pace setting position in the negro national league, the Kansas City Monarchs hope to close this gap during the 5 game series with the Dayton Marcos, which starts at Association Park this afternoon.

In "Lefty" Johnson and George Britt the Ohio Club has two of the best hurlers in the league. Like the Monarchs, the Marcos have a splendid hurling staff and are a deadly gang of hitters. In the series just completed at Dayton the Marcos copped three out of five games from the Cuban Stars, Britt emerging the victor in a 15-inning melee, 2 to 1. The club is piloted by Jim Taylor whose brother is at the helm at Indianapolis.
