

Second Game

The Cubans Stars evened up the series with the Monarchs, copping the second battle, 5 to 3, before a crowd of 8,000.

With the count tied 2 to 2 in the ninth round, a pair of wild heaves enabled the visitors to push two runs across without a hit, while Le Blanc retired the Monarchs in regular order in their half of the final session.

"Rube" Currie, who occupied the Miltop for the Monarchs, heaved a steady game and yielded only one more base knock than his mates were able to collect off the benders of Le Blanc, but faulty support aided the visitors to count all but one of their tallies.

The Monarchs attacked Le Blanc in the opening frame and made a pair of wallops count for as many runs, while two more safe pokes in the fifth gave the locals another run.

The Cubans counted two runs in the fifth on a base hit, aided by an error of the wounded batsman, while singles by [unclear] and Drecke figured in another run in the sixth. A walk, three [unclear] and a couple of wild heaves

Final Game

The Monarchs hit Martinez and Lopez hard in the final game of the series with the Cuban Stars at Cottonwood park yesterday, winning 4-1.

Donaldson, who started on the mound for the Monarchs, was nicked for four runs and as many counters during the first three frames and was replaced by Moner, who yielded a pair of base hits and a run during the next three frames. "Rube" Currie, who came to the rescue in the seventh, kept the visitors' blows well scattered and prevented any further scoring.

The Monarchs jumped into the lead in the opening round, counting a pair of runs on a trio of clouts, while the Cubans put a run over in the second.
With the aid of three hits and added runners, the Monarchs added two more runners to their credit in the third.

The Monarchs staged a rally in the fourth, which netted them four
