

MONARCHS WIN

Kansas City, Mo.—The Monarchs staged a batting rampage in the opening game of the series with the St. Louis Giants at Association park Sunday and bagged the initial melee, 13 to 2.

Luther and Carr were hit hard in the opening round, the Monarchs collecting a trio of runs off three healthy base knocks. Two more runs were put across in the second and third rounds, while the locals leaned against the offerings of Flinner, who relieved Carr on the mound, and clouted out six wallops which netted five runs. Another pair of tallies were garnered in the seventh and eighth chapters.

"Rube" Currie, who took the hilltop for the Monarchs, was never in danger and kept the visitor's blows well scattered throughout the nine rounds of tolling, only one earned run being registered off his fast ones.

The Giants counted their first run in the fourth when Brooks tripled to center and scored on Carr's boot of Donaldson's throw from center. In the final round a triple by Danage and a sacrifice fly by McAdoo gave the visitors their only other run.

Chicago Defender, Chicago, IL

Saturday, June 19, 1920, Page 9, Column 3