

"OPPORTUNES" HOLD ALL NATIONS EVEN

A GAME AND A SHUTOUT EACH —FAMOUS TRAVELERS GET
ONE RUN IN 2 GAMES

Before what was undoubtedly the largest number of people ever drawn to Bruegger Park entirely by a base ball attraction the "Opportunes" and the much touted All Nations played two fast and thrilling games Sunday afternoon.

The ranks of Williston fans were swelled by others from many surrounding vicinities until the crowd numbered between 1200 and 1500 people. And they were all well pleased by the showing of the local team, the only objection being that the games were not longer. An agreement for two seven-inning games was entered into by Manager Clarence Marshall in order to be safe against the possibility of encroaching on the time after six o'clock. As it turned out there was plenty of time for nine innings in the second game and that much more chance for Williston to win the game, but after the agreement was made and the visitors were ahead it would have been unsportsmanlike not to stick to our word.

The All Nations are a team of individual stars who have also become a well organized machine. In Donaldson, the negro pitcher and Mendez the black Cuban pitcher and all-round player the All Nations have two players who are excelled in playing ability by not a score of players in the big leagues and the pair would be in the leagues except for their color. The rest of the team are all exceptionally strong in all departments of the game.

For fourteen innings the "Opportunes" held the visitors to a single run while the local pitchers, Browning and Ruyle allowed them but five scattered hits, the run made resulting from an error.

In the first game Williston scored six in the 4th and two in the 5th on a combination five hits, and two errors by the A-Ns.

There were errors on each side, the result of hard hitting, but there was also much fast fielding and numerous thrilling plays.

Monday the local team went to Sidney and played two games with the All Nations. They were played on a very rough ground and were ragged exhibitions. The Williston players were in poor condition after the hard games of the day before and lost both contests, 9 to 2 and 8 to 5.

In the first of the Williston games the Opportunes defeated the famous cosmopolitan aggregation 8 to 0, allowing them but one hit and never a possible chance to score.

In the second game the visitors put the great Donaldson in the box to avoid a second defeat. He held the locals to a single hit, and allowed no runs. This was Williston's sixth game lost this season out of forty-four played, and the only shut-out they have suffered.

The figures for the games:

First game—				R.	H.	E.
