

ALL NATIONS HAVE EASY TIME WINNING

Defeat Local Aggregation
Sunday by a Score of 5 to 0 Here.

Too much Donaldson, Timely Hitting and Unsteadiness the Cause.

There is ample evidence to support the claim that Donaldson is the greatest colored pitcher in the national pastime and also that he is the greatest pitcher outside of the organized game. Some of that evidence was compiled here yesterday when the All-Nations baseball team defeated the Grand Forks aggregation 5 to 0 with the dark skinned twirler in the box.

The contest was won without effort on the part of Donaldson, who never was in the slightest danger of being scored on. His teammates, playing an air tight game, made the work of the pitcher considerably easier than it otherwise would have been, but he could have kept the locals from crossing the plate with a much weaker collection of players.

Good to Seventh.

The game was an excellent one up until the seventh inning, when the visitors began to find the offerings of Brenner and ran in three scores, and until that time but one had been counted. Brenner, who is a former member of the Flickertail team of the Northern league, and who is now playing with Cavalier, pitched as good a game as he has ever been seen to throw on the local grounds for six innings. Not a man reached first until the fourth and until that frame a hit had not been secured off him.

In the fifth Braseth let a third strike through him and Wilkus went to first. A hit by Blatner sent him to third and Brenner let him home on a wild pitch. In the seventh the All-Nations outfit began to find the ball and after Lowe had dropped a throw and let Mendez arrive safe at first, Coleman drove out a three bagger and he scored. Wilkus took first on a fielder's choice and Blatner polled out another drive for three sacks and both Coleman and Wilkus scored.

In the eighth a single by Evans and a double by Hernandez counted another and ended the scoring.

Locals Start Fast

Grand Forks started off in a manner that promised much, but ended as suddenly when Donaldson struck out the last two men with two on. L. Bach hit the first ball offered him for a safe one and after Gillis had fanned Gill drove one out for two bases.

Gill played a magnificent game of baseball. Out of four times to bat he secured two doubles off Donaldson, accepted eight chances without a slip and figured in a double play. That was pulled off in the seventh inning with one man down and Blatner on third. The infielders were all playing close in and Crow drove a vicious liner that the second baseman captured with one hand and playing the ball to Jackson he caught Blatner before he could get back to the base.

In the third inning he made a sensational running catch when he sprinted into center field and captured a Texas leaguer with his back to the ball.

Bach Plays Well.

L. Bach at short also played a good game. He took two hits off the colored pitcher out of four times to bat and one of them was a two-bagger.

In the eighth inning with two men down Braseth was hit on his right hand with a wide one and forced to quit the game. Brenner went from the mound behind the bat and Reilly took the pitching job. He finished the game without being scored on.

The crowd was the largest one that has attended a game this year.
