Before a crowd that numbered near 2,000 people that came from all over this part of the country, the All-Na- tions touring baseball team defeated Warren here at Dacotah park yesterday afternoon 4 to 1 in a game featured by the pitching of Donaldson, the colored twirler of the cosmopolitan aggregation. The All-Nations not only won the game but the $200 side bet and the long end of the gate receipts.

Donaldson allowed but two hits, one a three bagger in the eighth and the other a single in the ninth, and struck out seventeen batsmen. The big colored boy fanned seven of the first nine men that faced him.

Might be Three.

One more hit might be registered against Donaldson without stretching matters much, thus giving Andy Gill a safe one and saving Hernandez an error. This came in the fourth inning when Donaldson pitched himself into a bad place with Gill, the latter having three balls and one strike. Donaldson was forced to grove one and Andy met it fairly, driving the ball between short and second. Hernandez made a beautiful stop but his throw to first was wide and pulled Evans off the sack. Gill had wasted no time on the way and landed safe. Whether he could be credited with a hit depends on whether he had the throw beaten if it had been a perfect one.

Gill played his usual speedy game, accepting four chances in the field without a skip.

Warren secured its lone score in the ninth inning. Hennesy struck out on a low one that Coleman let by him and reached first safely. Wingfield was next up and fanned. Cline hit to Hernandez who juggled it long enough to allow Hennesy to reach second and Cline first. With two on Foster, came through with a clean single and scored Hennesy.

Eighth Dangerous.

It looked like a score for Warren in the eighth when Gonman drove out a three bagger along the right field foul line with Gill next up, but Donaldson took no chances and throwing four wide of the plate, passed the university coach. Two men were out and with a man on third

Gill took the only chance left to score. He led off first and when Donaldson threw to catch him, instead of going back started for second and stopped. Gonman, however, was caught off third by a pretty throw across the diamond and the side retired.

Halbert pitched an excellent game, but his support wavered several times and every instance was taken full advantage of by the All-Nations. But one of the scores secured against him was earned.

The first frame was a bad one, two counters being shoved across before the Minnesotans settled down. Hernandez, the first man up, drew a pass. Mendez hit safely and Hernandez went to third. Blatner went out on a long fly to left field, but Hernandez scored on the out. Mendez came home on a passed ball that Cline let through him.

The third counter came in the fifth inning. Steno singled and went to third on a duplicate by Hernandez, coming home on a wild throw by Wingfield from first to catch him.

The eighth saw the last one registered when Coleman landed safely at first on a fielder's choice. He went to second on Blatner's out and came in on a single by Donaldson.

While Donaldson should have a shut-out to his credit, he had a bit of luck in the fourth inning when a sensational running catch by Mendez in centerfield saved him a score. Cline drew a pass and Foster, next up, drove one out that looked good for the fence before it stopped, but Mendez turned his back to the grandstand and sprinted to the woods. He looked back just in time to see it above his shoulder and without attempting to stop, reached up and picked it out of the atmosphere. It was a beautiful play and received in that manner by the big crowd.
