the hard hitting visitors. Donaldson, the big smoke in the box for the All Nations, was probably the fastest twirler that ever worked in Association Park. However, he was taken out after two innings and his place taken by another pitcher. After the big black was relieved the home boys fared better, several times getting a man to third. The game was absolutely free from quarreling and rag-chewing, and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

All Nations 1 2 0 0 3 0 0 0 2—8

The Red Sox secured 4 hits during the game, and the All Nations 8.

Yesterday the All Nations, a traveling aggregation of ball players, visited Eureka and defeated the locals by a score of 8 to 0. The All Nations, as their name implies, is composed of Americans, Japs, Indians, Negroes and perhaps other nationalities. They are real ball players. Their star performer is Donaldson, a negro, who pitched for three innings and afterward played in right field. He is perhaps, the best all-round ball player who ever played on the local diamond and but for his color would certainly be signed with some one of the big league teams. Floyd Kite was son the rubber for Eureka and pitched a good game, fanning eleven men and pulling himself out of several bad holes. The fact that the Socks were out of their class all around had much to do with the final result and the defeat can not be checked up to Kite. He did his share. Bales, behind the bat, played a good game. The Eureka boys didn't expect to win this game, but they were out there fighting from start to finish and that's what makes a ball team. The experience they got yesterday will stand them in good stead in future games. The Eureka line up yesterday was the same as on Monday with one exception. Core played in left field in place of McMullen. Cheney umpired both games, his work as arbiter being entirely satisfactory to players and fans.
