Negro Hurler of All-Nations Fans 25 Men and Beats Yockey, 3 to 0.

Pitching a remarkable game, John Donaldson, the negro hurler of the All-Nations team, yesterday blanked the Schmelzers for twelve innings without a hit and finally won, 3 to 0. In performing this feat, the crack twirler struck out twenty-five men. One error let a Schmelzer reach first and a few more get to the initial corner of walks, but Donaldson was never in much danger of being scored upon.

Yockey, the star pitcher of the Schmelzers, also came through with a fine exhibition, but he had little chance of winning against Donaldson's work. He fanned fifteen of the All-Nations and held them to but six hits in the twelve rounds, but two of them, along with a couple of errors in the final chapter, caused his defeat. The game was played at Brenneisen's park in Armourdale.

The All-Nations club was purchased yesterday by the Schmelzers Arms Company, which will use it for advertising purposes. The team was formerly owned by Wilkinson and Gaul. The club will play Joe Dear's team at Leavenworth today and will appear at Omaha Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Score:

	R	H	E
All-Nations	000	000	003-3 6 1
Schmelzers	000	000	000-0 0 3

Batteries—Donaldson and Snyder; Yockey and Wiesing.

Donaldson Pitched 12 Hitless Innings and Struck Out 25.

John Donaldson, the greatest negro pitcher in the country, probably broke a world's record yesterday in a game against Joe Dear's Schmelzers. Donaldson, pitching for the All-Nations' club, went twelve innings without allowing a hit and struck out twenty-five men. Donaldson has won eighty-one out of eighty-six games. Last week he pitched a no-hit game against the Schmelzers, completing a record of twenty-one hitless innings against Dear's boys.

Yockey, who pitched for the Schmelzers, allowed four hits. His own error in the twelfth inning, when he slipped down in trying to field a bunt and threw wild to first, after two were out, paved the way for the All-Nations' three runs. The final score was 3 to 0. Yockey struck out fifteen men and was a worthy opponent to the negro pitcher.
