Donaldson in Action
 The big show of the series for the majority of the fans in Sunday's big crowd was that of seeing the popular colored artist, John Donaldson, again in action. From the competitive standpoint, however, the second game was perhaps the least interesting of the three, but was well worth the price of admission. The good-natured sportsman, Donaldson, was apparently in the best of condition and kept well out of danger throughout the game. His team mates waded into it and gathered 15 hits and a total of 9 scores, and plainly showed they can play by far the best ball behind their star thrower. Donaldson was credited with 13 strikeouts to 12 for Odewald, on the mound for the locals. Two hits were made off Donaldson, one each by Houdy and Madden.
