The Colored House of David ball team, of Havana, Cuba, showed a lot of snappy work in scoring an easy victory over the Natche team, of North Dakota. John Donaldson, the famous hurler, opened the game for the whiskered black boys, twirling a couple of innings before giving way to a submarine artist. Natche were no match for the dusky stars, but fought hard. The fine programme offered by Culbertson's Roman circus,

The Natche Internationals played the Colored Whiskered team at Pilot Mound on Wednesday and were defeated 16-8. From all accounts these negroes are about the fastest things in uniforms around this section of the country. They say that up at Pilot Mound one of the dusky men hit a ball so far that it had to be relayed twice before it was back in the infield. That must have been some hit.

But the local boys did a little hit themselves against the great $100,000 pitcher, Donaldson, and collected among other things four tripples.
