Kansas City Monarchs swept their series with House of David here Saturday, taking the fourth and fifth games of the five-game series by narrow decisions. Outhit in both contests, the colored players called on tight fielding and organized clouting to win the afternoon fixture by a 7-6 score and the evening one, 3-1.

Steady work on the hillock by both Rogan and Donaldson, Monarch twirlers, also fitted in well with the winning campaign. Rogan was nicked for 16 hits, three of them doubles, in the afternoon contest, but was quite capable of bearing down at critical stages. House of David crashed 12 safeties off Donaldson in the evening game, but a Monarch double play, errorless fielding and some smartly controlled hurling by the colored pitcher cut down the effect of the bombardment to a lone run.
