
"ALL NATIONS" TEAM TO ASSEMBLE IN DES MOINES

Des Moines, Ia., March 26.—J. L. Wilkinson arrived yesterday in the city and is already getting things under way for another big season of the All Nations baseball club. Jose Mendez, alias "the Black Matthewson," will be with the club again this year, and is expected to prove the sensation that he has since leaving Cuba, where he won the reputation of being the best ball player the island ever produced.

Donnelson, the colored pitcher, and Naito, the Jap from the University of Chicago, he announces, will be with the team on their trip through the Northwest. The other players have not been selected, but it is expected fully as fast a team as played for the All Nations club last season will again make the trip.

Players will arrive in the latter part of April, and will take two weeks' training on a local field. It is hoped the team will be seen in action in Des Moines, the headquarters of the nine, this spring. During the nine years of the team's organization, only once, two years ago, has it played here.
