

All sorts of things have happened this baseball season but yesterday's game will probably put an end to all the argument that has been going on between the members of the two teams for Umpire Connie Lewis ordered Webster, the Breakers right fielder, out of the game, and when he refused to go and his captain refused to remove him after the customary two minutes had elapsed, which is the legal time, in baseball law, for this to happen, Lewis forfeited the game to the Poinciana team 9-0.

Lewis was perfectly within his rights and had warned Webster the previous inning that his remarks would have to be cut out, removed and hidden for the balance of the afternoon. This decision and rupture were almost bound to come, and in fact it was the second time during the afternoon that trouble threatened. The first dispute was between Poles and Wallace of the Breakers team, which got to such a point that Poles refused to play. Exit Poles and Webster then went to right field from catcher, Santop catching. This wasn't all in the way of substitution either, as Thomas, the heavy hitting center fielder of the Breakers was not feeling well and Williams had to take his place.

The game was a righty good one so far as it lasted as Donaldson was back in the box for Poinciana and pitching gilt-edged ball. His opponents were not doing anything of merit with his delivery, whereas the Poinciana team had tallied two runs off Wade and were in a fair way of taking the game by actual play when Webster got mixed up with the umpire.
