

The famous All Nation team appeared against the locals on the home grounds last Thursday evening and lost 7 to 2. The contest was witnessed by over 600 people, some of whom expressed disappointment because the great Donaldson was not on the firing line for the visitors. No pitcher can pitch every day. As the colored wonder had opposed Grafton the day previously he did not care to overwork himself by throwing the game here.

Game played July 13, 1916 at Inkster, ND
