

OILERS VS. MONARCHS

First of Two-Game Series Will be Played Tomorrow--Game
Called at 3 o'Clock.

Fresh from their double victory over the Blues the Kansas City Monarchs come tomorrow for the last two games of the local season. Hence they return to Kansas City Friday to finish their post-season series with the Blues.

Mgr. Crawford has promised to pitch "Bullet" Rogan, the Ace of the Monarchs' pitching staff, in part of the game Wednesday and it will be a treat for local fans as Rogan has never worked here. He will be opposed by Earl Hamilton of the Pittsburgh National League team, who makes his winter home in Oswego. Mgr. Griffin tried to secure

Walter Johnson for one of these games but he wrote he was leaving Jeffreyville after last Sunday's game and would not be able to pitch any more this year. The Skipper is turning up the wires for a high class man to take Johnson's place and as soon as he is landed he will spill the dope.

With the exception of left field and the pitcher's box the Oilers' will present the same line-up that battled the Blues. Hi Henry on first, Washburn at second, Dutch in his usual spot, Hardgrove on third, Reid, Nutt and Osborne in the gardens, with Gilly and Decker catching.

Early in the season Mgr. Griffin arranged a three game series with the Monarchs. They won the first game 6 to 0 with "Ossy" opposing Currie and these two games will complete the series, the bats will be put away for winter and for all time as far as the Skipper is concerned if his hired help don't cop one or both of these games. Mgr. G. ... is going to don the old ... and get back on the third base line and show 'em some fight. These games will be called at 3 p. m. Admission fifty cents. Below is the battle formation for tomorrow's contest:

Oilers		Monarchs
Hardgrove	3b	Donaldson
Dutch	ss	Duncan
Washburn	2b	McNair
Reld	lf	Johnson
Nutt	cf	Moore
Osborne	rf	Joseph
Henry	1b	Hawkins
Becker	c	Allen
Hamilton	p	Rogan
