

THE OFFICIAL NEGRO NATIONAL LEAGUE SCHEDULE FOR MAY AND JUNE.
— AT HOME —

Columbus.

With Chicago Giants: May 1 to 4.
With St. Louis: May 15 to 20.
With Kansas City: May 21 to 25.
With New York: May 28 to June 2.

Indianapolis.

With Columbus: May 7 to 11.
With Kansas City: May 16 to 20.
With New York: May 22 to 26.

Cincinnati.

With Indianapolis: May 1 to 4.
With New York: May 16 to 20.
With Chicago Giants: May 21 to 26.

St. Louis.

With Chicago Giants: May 7 to 11.
With Chicago Americans: May 23-27.
With Indianapolis: June 4 to 9.

With Chicago Giants: June 11 to 15.
With Kansas City: June 19 to 24.

Detroit.

With New York: May 7 to 10.
With Chi. Gants: May 29 to June 2.
With Cincinnati: June 4 to 9.
With Columbus: June 11 to 16.

Chicago Giants.

(No Dates at Home)

Kansas City.

With St. Louis: May 1 to 4.
With Indianapolis: May 28 to 31.
With Chi. Giants: June 4 to 9.
With Cincinnati: June 11 to 16.

Chicago American Giants.

With Kansas City: May 7 to 11.
With New York: May 15.
With Cincinnati: May 28 to 31.
With Columbus: June 4 to 9.
With Indianapolis: June 11 to 16.

New York.

(No Games at Home)

MONARCHS EVEN UP SERIES WITH GIANTS.

The Monarchs handed "Bullet" Rogan a three-run lead in the first inning, and his superb pitching made it plentiful to achieve a victory over the St. Louis Giants at Association Park Sunday, 3 to 1, thereby evening the series. A brace of singles on the heels of Ray's wild peg to second deprived Rogan of a shutout game. The Giants collected but five hits.

The home help got after Drake in the opening frame and iced the frolic then and there. Portuondo started things off by reaching first on an error and moved up one on Carr's single. Both runners rode home on Donaldson's double, and Big John tallied on McNair's safe belt. The Monarchs were unable to do anything with Drake thereafter, but the damage had already been wrought.

Not to be outdone by their rivals for home patronage, the Blues, the Monarchs of the Negro, National league, staged a little swatfest of their own at Association park Monday, smearing the ball yard with 26 base hits of all varieties and sizes. the St. Louis Giants finishing a poor second in a 21 to 7 combat. The home performers combed the opposition pitching for 19 runs in the first four frames.

Carr started on the peak for the Giants and was removed in the second round when it was imminent his continued presence might cause injury to the infielders, so fast and furious were hits bounding through the inner defense. Finner then came on and took his bumps in habit-forming doses. The frolic wound up with Charleston decorating the eminence. After the fourth stanza the Monarchs grew leg and arm weary, closing the scoring ledger for the day except in the seventh when they counted twice.

Foreman opened for the locals and was monarch of all he surveyed, save in the first round when he was touched up for three runs. With the club safely out in front, Smith essayed the hurling assignment and was ineffective in only one inning.

Blackwell of the Giants and McNair of the Mendezians each collected four blows. Carr, Donaldson, Rogan and Ray plastered three apiece. King and S. Foreman were the only Monarchs to go hitless.

Kansas City Sun, Kansas City, MO

May 7, 1921