

Unique Wager is Made by All Nations Chief

According to the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader, John Donaldson, manager of the All Nations club which has downed Sioux Falls in two out of three games, has a unique wager, betting that he could whip the three times champs of the Dakota league and remove one man each inning until the ninth. Following is the wager, as printed in the Argus-Leader:

"Apropos of the present victorious tour of the All Nations team, there's a story of the All Nations team, there's a story going the rounds today that it worth the telling. According to this tale, John Donaldson, the veteran slab artist of the All Nations, was discussing the merits of the Mitchell nine, three-time pennant winners of the Dakota league.

"Well," said John, "tell you what I'll do. I'll post a $500 wager we can lick Mitchell and to give them a real chance. I'll take one man out of the team each inning after the first and not put anyone in his place, leaving just pitcher and catcher in the ninth."

"To date there has been no record of any "come-back" but the Argus-Leader will not vouch for the veracity of this story and passes it along for what it is worth. Such a game ought to be worth going many miles to see."
